Where Does the Time Go?

Have you ever found yourself asking the question, "Where does the time go?" As I sat down to write this article, that very question came to mind. In particular, I found it hard to believe that I was already writing an article for November of this year. This, of course, means that December is right around the corner and, before you know it, we will be at the end of the year.

When I think about how it seems that time flies by so quickly, a few Bible verses come to mind. The first ones are recorded in Psalm 90, verses 10 and 12. These verses read, as follows:

The years of our life are seventy, or even by reason of strength eighty; yet their span is but toil and trouble; they are soon gone, and we fly away...So teach us to number our days that we may get a heart of wisdom (ESV).

These verses remind us that the times of our life are soon gone...these truly do fly by so quickly. So, we ask the Lord to grant us a heart of wisdom for living out the number of our days on this earth. The Scriptures teach us that "the fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom." In fact, Proverbs 9:10-11 reads, "The fear of the LORD is the beginning of wisdom, and the knowledge of the Holy One is insight. For by me your days will be multiplied, and years will be added to your life" (ESV). Maybe there is some merit to those who attribute a long life to "clean living."

One thing is for certain, during our days on this earth we would do well as God's people to live our days in accord with His will and wisdom. In that vein, the apostle Paul wrote:

Look carefully then how you walk, not as unwise but as wise, making the best use of the time, because the days are evil. Therefore do not be foolish, but understand what the will of the Lord is. And do not get drunk with wine, for that is debauchery, but be filled with the Spirit, addressing one another in psalms and hymns and spiritual songs, singing and making melody to the Lord with your heart, giving thanks always and for everything to God the Father in the name of our Lord Jesus Christ, submitting to one another out of reverence for Christ (Ephesians 5:15-21, ESV).

We only have a certain number of days on this earth. How we live them has eternal consequences for ourselves and others. Jesus said, "We must work the works of him who sent me while it is day; night is coming, when no one can work" (John 9:4, ESV). God's work in Christ is that of reconciling the world unto Himself. To that end, Christ lived out His Father's will. He lived a perfect life, gave up His life in death for our sin, and was raised again, all to draw us to Himself. This drawing he does graciously by the power of the Spirit in Word and Sacrament.

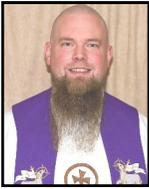

Oh, where does the time go? It goes forward to an ultimate end when Christ will come again on the Last Day. As the time flies by so quickly, we are reminded from the Holy Scriptures of the importance of living our days in sync with God's will...in His wisdom, to His glory and for His service. To Him be the glory!

Love God and love your neighbor,
Pastor Krueger

Jesus in the Psalms - Psalm 6 (ESV)

¹ O LORD, rebuke me not in your anger, nor discipline me in your wrath. ² Be gracious to me, O LORD, for I am languishing; heal me, O LORD, for my bones are troubled. ³ My soul also is greatly troubled. But you, O LORD—how long? ⁴ Turn, O LORD, deliver my life; save me for the sake of your steadfast love. ⁵ For in death there is no remembrance of you; in Sheol who will give you praise? ⁶ I am weary with my moaning; every night I flood my bed with tears; I drench my couch with my weeping. ⁷ My eye wastes away because of grief; it grows weak because of all my foes. ⁸ Depart from me, all you workers of evil, for the LORD has heard the sound of my weeping. ⁹ The LORD has heard my plea; the LORD accepts my prayer. ¹⁰ All my enemies shall be ashamed and greatly troubled; they shall turn back and be put to shame in a moment.

One of my favorite sitcoms aired from 1996 - 2001. 3rd Rock from the Sun was about four extraterrestrials (aliens) who arrive on Earth to explore the human race. They take on human form to blend in with us. But, in taking on human form they somehow, inadvertently, also take on human emotion. In one episode they start to complain that their human bodies are “leaking” and broken. “Why won’t the leaking stop?,” they bemoan. Turns out they were experiencing sadness for the first time and, along with that sadness, crying and tears.

As children we cried easily and sometimes on-demand (especially when our demands were not being met). After each successive birthday, though, we matured in our ability to process and handle life and the number of times we cried began to be limited to times of physical pain or socially acceptable times of immense grief.

As we entered into our teenage years, and even into adulthood, we entered into a great tension with crying. From “Big Girls Don’t Cry” to “It’s My Party and I’ll Cry If I Want To” I think many of us struggle with what to do with our tears. Perhaps that is because of the primary source for most of our tears - sin.

In Psalm 6 David describes a point in time in his life to which many of us can relate - crying for hours, so much so that we are physically tired and worn out. Our eyes hurt, the lump in our throat is persistent and painful, the tears have been so plentiful that they are now everywhere else and we can’t physically see clearly because of blurred vision. We don’t know what exactly was causing David so much grief, whether it was actual sins he committed and the consequences thereof or if it was the effects of original sin through he was living. Whatever it was, the sorrow was immense.

I don’t know what caused your tears the last time you cried this much, whether it was because of an actual sin you committed and the consequences thereof, or if it was because of the effects of original sin. Perhaps you are even in the midst of the tears this very moment. Maybe the tears will never go away.

In the midst of his tears, David confesses a wonderful Gospel truth - “The LORD has heard my plea; The LORD will answer my prayer.” Notice the future tense - The LORD will. The LORD will answer.

Our LORD Jesus Christ was no stranger to tears. He wept for His friend Lazarus. He cried out on the cross “My God, my God, why have You forsaken me?”

When the tears are long, when the sorrow doesn’t seem to go away, when the grief and agony of sin is overwhelming, remember this - Jesus knows tears, Jesus hears your prayers, Jesus will answer!

Soli Deo Gloria!

A Message From Our Pastor Emeritus

Rev. Walter F. Albers

Email: pastoralbers@splcwaco.com

As part of my devotional life I am reading the Psalms. Recently I started to think about what I could share in the November newsletter that would have a Thanksgiving thrust to it. And right there in front of me it stood... Psalm 103. At times we look about and see others who have more... who have not shared our hurts and problems... whose lives seem to be going so much better and we wonder, just what do I have for which I can be truly thankful? No matter what your situation in life, the Psalmist has the answer.

He starts with, "Bless the Lord, O my soul; and all that is within me, bless His holy name" (Ps. 103:1). In other words, thank and praise God for all He has done for you... for the many ways He has blessed you... then the Psalmist lists five special blessings we all share:

- 1) "Who forgives all your sins" (Ps. 103:3)... God, freely out of a heart of grace, has forgiven every sin we have committed... no matter how rich or poor... how great a success or poor a failure... without any merit or worthiness on our part... every sin is forgiven... surely a reason to thank God.
- 2) "And heals all your diseases" (Ps. 103:3)... How many times has God worked great healing blessings in our lives... restoring health in many cases... granting extended life in others... and how often have we had a cold cured before it reached pneumonia... an infection cured before a limb was effected or other serious problems... successful surgery that made life so much better... surely a reason to thank God.
- 3) "Who redeems your life from the pit" (Ps. 103:4)... Another way to say that God has saved us from destruction... God has watched over us as we have traveled about... kept us and our homes and families free from flood waters... from tornado's destruction... from fire and loss... most all of us have been able to pursue our callings in peace... surely a reason to thank God.

4) "And crowns your life with love and compassion" (Ps. 103:4)... 'Pastor, I just don't love him anymore'... 'I don't think my parents love me'... 'My children must not love me, they never come to see me'... Man's love is often conditional... can be turned off and on by our feelings and moods and whatever else might interest us... but the love of God is sure and certain... from everlasting to everlasting... undeserved, but always there... and that love moves Him to deal tenderly and gently with us... surely a reason to thank God.

5) "Who satisfies your desires with good things" (Ps. 103:4)... Our hunger has been satisfied by good food and what a variety... our pleasures and enjoyments are unlimited... our craving for knowledge and growth finds open doors in our schools and libraries... our desire for companionship has brought us loving and faithful husbands and wives... our desire to see future generations has blessed us with children and grandchildren, and how special they are... our times when loneliness seeks to interrupt our lives have been met with Christian friends, people willing to share life's heartaches and blessings... surely a reason to thank God.

And then the Psalmist adds, "so that your youth is renewed like the eagles" (Ps. 103:5)... The eagle is used in Scripture to show us strength... for they seem to fly forever and never tire as they soar above trees and mountain peaks... and so the people of God who realize their rich blessings... rather than be down and depressed... rather than looking at life through glasses marked gloom and despair and hopelessness... they, empowered by God's blessings, can rise above the negatives of life and enjoy life to the fullest.

This year, make this month... not a day, but the whole month... a time for special thanksgiving to God... count your blessings daily... and join us for Thanksgiving Eve worship... together as a family... the special family of God, to praise and thank the Lord for all of His blessings!

He delivers them from all their troubles.” Psalm 34:17

Life is Too Short

I was reading in the Life Date Summer 2018 edition, the quarterly publication of Lutherans for Life, and came across an article pertaining to a woman's experience with a deadly intestinal infection and bowel obstruction. This experience ultimately led her to aspirate and end up spending weeks in ICU at two different hospitals on life support and a special lung machine that pumps circulated blood through artificial lungs that oxygenate the blood. This was her only chance at survival.

During her weeks on death's doorstep, her family and friends "assaulted the gates of heaven with prayers," according to the lady's husband. Their daughter stated, "Her recovery process has been a perfect reminder that God works in His time, and not in ours, but that it is always worth it to wait on Him!"

We are and have often been reminded of this here at St. Paul. There have been numerous times where loved ones and family members and friends have experienced ordeals, tragedies and trauma, that have left us wondering, "Why, how long, and what will the outcome be, Lord?" Although the timeframe seems like an eternity, and the outcomes do not always come out like we would like, we continue to trust in the Lord. Trusting that He knows what is best for us and what is best for the person(s) that experience the ordeals.

God truly holds us in the palm of His hands, always (Psalm 31:15; Isaiah 49:16). God will grant healing (2Kings 20:5, 8; Isaiah 19:22). God is always with us, even to the end of the age (Matthew 28:20). God the Father could not let his creation be estranged from Him for very long, it was too painful for Him. So He sent His only Son, Jesus Christ, to come into the world to take on flesh and blood that we might be saved, bought for a price, the price of Jesus' death, our propitiation. Therefore, by Jesus' resurrection from the dead, we are brought back into the good graces of God the Father, through Jesus, and made righteous with God once again. This will not change. But knowing that we are loved, cherished, and redeemed by our Savior is only part of our new life. We are charged with serving others, as Christ served us. We need to be cognizant that life is too short to let the important little things slip by us.

Do not take anything for granted. We are here such a short time and do not know what is in store for us. Plan your days first to include the Lord, then all those you love and have meaning in your life. Don't wait to tell someone how you feel, you may never have that chance again. Spend your time with them; the best gift you can give of yourself is yourself. Stop to enjoy the beauty of this wonderful world that God has created for us and appreciate all that is in it. Love unconditionally and forgive. Serve others with gladness and joy from the heart. Let the Holy Spirit take charge of your life and let your light shine. You may not be remembered for what you said, or what you did, or even how you behaved. But, you will be remembered for how you loved your neighbor.

The lady mentioned above summed it up this way, "God has given each of us a limited time to be on this earth, a purpose for that time, and people with whom to share that time. Don't wait for a near-death experience to teach you the lesson of appreciating to the fullest what God has given you."

In Christ's unfailing love,
Deaconess Suzanne
